

PAA INSIDER

THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF THE POTATO ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA

MAKING THE WORLD A BETTER PLACE, ONE TUBER AT A TIME."

FIRST LETTER FROM THE NEW PAA PRESIDENT

Dear PAA Members,

The annual meeting of The Potato Association of America is always one of the highlights of my year, and has been ever since I went to my first one in Boise, ID in 1985. The 100th annual meeting this past summer in Grand Rapids, MI was very special for many reasons, including the opportunity to celebrate this event in the historic Amway Grand Plaza Hotel where the second ever meeting of this association was held in December, 1915. I want to extend my personal thanks to LAC Co-Chairs Dave Douches, Chris Long and Mike Wenkel and their team for the fantastic organization of that event. If you were not there you really missed an opportunity to reconnect with old friends in the potato industry, and meet new ones from around the world. I hope you will consider attending the 2017 meeting. I know the LAC is very excited to be hosting the 101st meeting this summer in Fargo, ND. You can read more about their plans and find out how to register and submit an abstract in this newsletter.

It seems like we always come back from the PAA meeting and go right into the frenzy of harvest without a chance to even take a deep breath and look forward to the next year. With fall closing in and most field work coming to an end, now is a great time to outline a few areas of focus for this coming year.

Since we are on the subject of the annual meeting, you may have noticed some of the activities that have been initiated to increase our outreach to graduate students. Participation in the Frank L. Haynes Graduate Student Research Award Competition has been building every year, and the quality of the presentations has definitely enhanced the program at the annual meeting. However, we wanted to use some of the funds from the endowment to better connect graduate students with each other, and to have an opportunity to interact with PAA members as a way to foster their interest in continuing their careers in potato science. To that end, Dr. Nora Olsen organized a terrific culinary event for the graduate students in MI, and the comments we received back were very positive. I plan to work with the Fargo LAC to continue this effort.

Another relatively new addition to the program has been an invited international speaker. This activity is also made possible by the PAA endowment account that many of you have generously supported. We plan to continue this activity at the 2017 meeting. Hector Lozoya and his International Relations Committee are currently accepting nominations for speakers.

One important topic of discussion during the 2016 Business Meeting was the proposed revisions to the PAA Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws. A committee was established last year to work through needed revisions that will bring these documents into compliance with current laws and procedures, and

Nominations for Honorary Life Membership

One of the most significant ways to recognize outstanding contributions to the potato industry and to our organization, The Potato Association of America, is the awarding of Honorary Life Membership (HLM). This is the highest award bestowed upon an individual by The PAA. Each year at the Annual Meeting, this award is given to deserving individuals and is considered by many attendees the highlight of the Banquet.

PAA members are encouraged to nominate candidates for HLM to be presented at the 2017 101st Annual Meeting in Fargo, North Dakota. Nominated individuals should have made significant contributions to the potato industry and/or The PAA.

Contributions may come from activities related to research, extension, education, production, processing, marketing, utilization or any of the other facets of the potato industry which may be appropriate. HLM awards may be given to individuals outside of The PAA.

Instructions for HLM nomination, selection procedures and desired candidate information can be found on the PAA website: <http://potatoassociation.org/membership/committees/honorary-life-member>

Final Letter from Outgoing President

It has been a privilege serving PAA as President this past year. As in previous years, the Executive Committee and Section Chairs met during the year via conference calls and emails. I thank each participant for taking the time to make our meetings productive and helping to move a strong PAA forward. I am proud that PAA has so many dedicated and active members. Our Administrator, Lori Wing, as always, efficiently handled all aspects of The PAA office.

During the year the Executive Committee has worked hard to continue the restructuring of PAA that was started by Andy Jensen after the annual meeting in Maine. We are making good progress on updating PAA's bylaws, and reorganizing PAA's structural and financial management. There will be a lot of changes coming this year and next in preparation for the imminent retirement of our Treasurer Larry Hiller and Administrator Lori Wing. Change is never easy but it is necessary for PAA to continue to thrive in the future. Throughout this transition period and after, what PAA stands for, what PAA does, in other words the heart and soul of PAA, will remain the same.

We celebrated our 100th Annual Meeting last July in Grand Rapids, Michigan. I wish to recognize Co-Chairs Mike Wenkel, Chris Long and David Douches who hosted an excellent and enjoyable meeting. The venue, food, well planned sessions and great social events will be remembered for a long time.

As immediate past president I am responsible for receiving nominations for Honorary Life Membership. If you know of someone deserving of this award, please see the announcement in this Insider for nomination details. I will also be soliciting nominations for Vice President and Directors. We will have two openings for Director in 2017. If you are interested or know someone who might be, please contact me.

Thank you again for the opportunity to serve as PAA president.

Loretta Mikitzel, President 2015-2016

set the stage for the future governance of this association. Key messages heard in this discussion were that the election process for Directors and Officers needs to more clearly spelled out; and that there needs to be a clear plan of transition from the old Bylaws to the new ones when those documents are approved by the membership. The committee is currently working to address the concerns that were raised, with plans to present a revised document to the PAA membership prior to the 2017 meeting.

An ad-hoc committee headed by President-elect Shelley Jansky is evaluating proposals from several professional management companies to take over the financial and administrative duties of PAA. This effort is aimed at developing a management structure that does not rely so heavily on volunteers to conduct the day to day business of this association.

As your newly elected President, I hope that I can continue the good work of Past-President Loretta Mikitzel in moving the PAA forward into its second century. Loretta, along with all the other Directors, Officers and Section Chairs that are listed in this newsletter do so much behind the scenes to ensure the success of PAA, and I want to thank them all for their contributions to this association. There are three volunteers and one staff member that I really need to single out for their contributions. John Bamberg (Editor-in-Chief), Larry Hiller (Treasurer) and Carrie Wohleb (Secretary) put in countless hours every year in service to PAA. Our Administrator, Lori Wing, has ably staffed the PAA office in Maine for over 19 years, handling the day to day business of this association, and keeping people like me on track. PAA could not be successful without the dedicated service of all of these fine people.

We will continue the practice of having monthly conference calls to allow the Executive Committee to conduct the business of the association, and to deal with the important issues outlined above. If you have any ideas or concerns that the EC needs to address, please feel free to contact us at any time.

Notes from the Administrator

Can you believe that it is November already and we're heading towards the end of another year. Just a housekeeping item to think about:

The first round of renewals have been sent out by our online accounting software. Just like last year, you were given the option to go into PayPal (PP) and pay it right then and there. You do not have to have a PP account, this belongs to PAA and we pay all fees. You just need to put in your name, the address that your CC invoice is sent to and CC information. You'll receive a receipt once the transaction has gone through. When you call and give me your CC information because you don't use PayPal, that is exactly what is going to happen. I'm just going to turn around and put it through using it. Please try it out before calling because I don't always receive the correct invoice address. I have to turn around and contact you for assistance. I appreciate those who have paid so promptly and also your continued support of PAA through membership!

Have a Happy Holiday Season as it now approaches ~ Lori ~
